

SAID IN CYPRESS

By Newsy

When we were growing up many year ago, one of our best friends was the middle one of three girls in the family. Her mother often made the remark in moments of household despair, that one girl was a whole girl, two girls were half a girl, and three girls were no girl at all!

That about sums up the situation when the Cypress Enterprise went to press last week. With two of us assuming the editorial responsibilities at the last moment, the job was only half done. There are several things that we would like to mention just to keep the record straight and in keeping with our policy to bring you most of the happenings around. If these items have not come to your attention, they will still be news to you.

We had such a personal interest in the drawing the Essex's variety store held on Saturday afternoon before Christmas that we overlooked getting the results to you. Mrs. Warrick won the beautiful table lamp. And we wished we could have had a recording of her vocal outburst as she expressed her pleasure at winning. It was like no sound you've heard before.

You may recall that Mrs. Warrick, with a family of four boys no less, was the winner last year of the doll and layette which was given away by one of the local organizations. We left the store after the lamp was drawn. Imagine our chagrin when we learned there was another prize—a teddy bear. We raced back to the front of the store just as Mrs. Christine Sedney was reaching for it. Seems our number had been called, and since no one claimed it, another number was drawn! The moral of this story is, pay attention to what you read in the papers!

We are always happy in a good many ways for the Christmas time. One is for the special feeling which comes only at the holiday season. We wish that particular spirit of fellowship and goodwill could last throughout the year. Another blessing is the visits to the home town accorded our men in the service when it is physically possible. We had the pleasure personally of seeing Tommy Mason and Jimmie Duncan and enjoying visits with them. We missed particularly that old heckler, "when am I going to get my name in the paper?" Tom Boudreau, who is too far across the seas this year to be with home folks. There, that did it, Tom! We wouldn't dare mention Norman Duncan, because there are all those other service fellows who would feel left out, but who just haven't been mentioned in our presence lately.

And speaking of those who serve, little credit is given to those VFW auxiliary women who give so much of their time to volunteer work in the veterans' hospital in

I have become so enthusiastic about the present and future of the ENTERPRISE, that it is truly with regret that I am forced to leave it—even for a new job which could hold quite a lot more in the way of opportunities, although in a slightly different field.

I'll not only miss people coming to me and telling me what they like—or dislike—about the paper, but I'll miss the opportunity that every editor of a weekly newspaper cherishes, the right to denounce or encourage whatever he thinks deserves criticism or praise in his community.

When I came to the paper, however, people were quick to tell me that Beth had made a good editor, so I am not worrying about whether it is in good hands or not.

But while I will not officially represent the ENTERPRISE anymore, I will still be around. So thanks for everything, you've been swell subscribers and advertisers.

Review Of Year 1951 Reveals Accomplishments

By George E. Hart

Orange county saw epochal developments in two basically important fields during 1951—water and sanitation—as the outstanding progress in a year that was also marked by accomplishments in agriculture, highways, flood control and other operations.

Moreover, groundwork was laid in 1951 for projects that will mature in 1952, assuring prospects for another progressive year, a survey shows.

The two paramount events in 1951 were, without question, the formation of the Orange County Municipal Water district and its annexation to the Metropolitan Water district, and the breaking of the three-year deadlock that had stalled the county sanitation program.

The former solved a desperate water supply problem, and the latter an almost equally critical sanitation crisis. Both were definitely essential not only to present needs but also to future growth.

The Municipal water district, covering most of the county not already in MWD, acquired rights to more than 60,000 acre feet of water annually from the Colorado river, making a total of 107,000 acre feet a year owned by Orange county territory. That would not only make up the present annual overdraft of the local supply, estimated at 24,000 to 40,000 acre feet a year, but also would allow for future expansion, and would gradually overcome the alarming encroachment of ocean water into the underground basin.

Editor Leaves Enterprise, New Position

Dale Kroesen, editor of the ENTERPRISE for the past two and one-half years, has accepted a new position as editor of the Nutrilite Review.

Miss Beth Kroesen, former editor who started the paper and developed it in its early stages, will resume the job of editor. Kroesen will continue with some of the advertising duties until a replacement can be obtained.

His new job involves the editing of news coming from the research chemists of the laboratories of Nutrilite Products, Inc., of Buena Park, which will be sent to publications all over the nation.

Propose New Church Site

Proposal for the establishment of a church in the Cypress district will be studied by the county planning commission at a public hearing set for January 11, at 2 p.m. in the courthouse annex, when the commission acts on an application for variance from Rev. Clarence G. Eigenhuis.

He proposes to erect the church on the west side of Walker st., 770 feet north of Orange ave. This is zoned as a suburban residential district.

Church plans call for a structure 26 by 60 feet in dimensions with seating capacity for 120 persons. Parking facilities for 55 cars would be provided. The church would be built in connection with a residence now under construction at the site.

Take Tot To Hospital

There are ways to spend a Christmas vacation, and little four-year old Ardith Hambly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arden Hambly on Bishop street, chose the hard way.

Somehow a "jack" became lodged in Ardith's esophagus—wouldn't come up or go down. After it happened at six o'clock in the evening, she was rushed to St. Joseph's hospital where a specialist was able to dislodge it after an hour's struggle. For awhile surgery seemed imminent. The little girl stayed the night at the hospital but was released the next morning.

To add to the vacation misery, she and Jimmy came down with the chicken pox on Tuesday, just as Jerry was getting over them. The oldest child, Judy, who is a student in the sixth grade, already has them out of the way, sighs their mother.

Demonstration At Robinson's

A "tune-up clinic" has been scheduled for Robinson's motor company, corner of Walker and Lincoln, Tuesday all day.

Something new in Cypress, the clinic is run by a representative of the Allen Equipment company of Los Angeles, with an expert on the job all day. He diagnosis the trouble in the cars with equipment from his company, which includes all of the latest in tune-up tools. Then Robinson's do the work he suggests.

Since a limited number of cars can be serviced, interested persons are asked to get in touch with Robinson's Saturday for an appointment.

CYPRESS HARDWARE PLANS FOR COMPLETE REMODELING JOB

Added floor space left by the vacancy created by the moving of Walley's barber shop has developed into plans for complete remodeling of their Cypress Hardware, according to Frank and Foster Noe, owners.

In the newly acquired area, there will be displays of television sets, appliances and a complete bathroom will be set up. Other parts of the store will be changed too, they said, but final plans have not yet been made.

FOR A HAPPY NEW YEAR

Actually, the New Year changes little but the calendar. Yet, in the minds of most people it marks a point of fresh beginning, new incentive and new hope.

All of us wish for a New Year that will really be happy. What can we do to make it so? The measure of happiness and sadness we experience seems largely determined by mighty outside forces which appear little affected by what we do or do not do. But if we analyze our lives more closely we find that most of the joys and the heartaches stem not from forces without but from thoughts within.

A genuine effort to "do unto others . . ." makes existence more pleasant. On the other hand, the determination to "get yours" no matter what the harm to others will result in eventual unhappiness even if it brings temporary success.

This is old stuff. Yet it's the stuff life is made of. No one escapes some rough weather on life's sea, but we find the sailing a lot smoother when we drop old grudges, treat all people with equal respect, and strive to make our homes and communities more desirable places to live in.

It's worth trying—and January 1 is a good time to start.

THE BIG STORIES

Toward the close of each year the press associations list the events which they feel were tops from a news standpoint during the previous 12 months.

You may not agree with the selection since to you the top story of the year was that new arrival in the family (if one arrived) or that big promotion you got (if you got it). Be that as it may, the United Press editors in looking at the broader aspects of news stories listed them this 'away in the order of their importance: The firing of MacArthur, Korean Armistice negotiations, Kefauver crime hearings, Return of government economic controls, Korean war atrocities, Amateur sport scandals, Internal Revenue dismissals, Churchill's election, Missouri-Kansas floods, Development of tactical weapons.

Included in those nominated for the top 10 were the National League pennant playoff and the Japanese Peace Treaty.

The year of 1951 certainly has not lacked for these moments. In fact, there have been few days when some dramatic situation has not been pressing hard upon us. But 1952 will hardly be different. Korea, even if a truce is signed, will still involve tough problems; the situation in Europe promises to be little better; we haven't heard the end of the government scandals, and we have only heard the beginning of the presidential campaign for next November.

So, hang on to your toupes as we dive into another year of turbulent, pulse-pounding news. Anyway we won't be bored.

COUNTY COMMENT

By GEORGE E. HART

Nelson T. Edwards, of Orange, whose passing last week saddened friends throughout not only Orange county but the state, probably was identified with more Orange county progress than any other individual since the days of the founders.

As banker, county official, state senator, state highway commissioner, and private citizen, he took an important part in the development of agriculture, highways, conservation, and other factors that have shaped the growth and character of this region.

His county and state frequently called upon him for some notable service, and never found him either unwilling or unable to supply the need. He was prodigal of his time and his unquestioned talents, whether giving public service, or private help to those who required it.

At least two California governors relied upon him for advice and support. There was a time when he probably might have, had he desired, become the governor of this state himself. But he was a humble man, and his willingness to serve was directed into the lower walks of life as well as the high.

A big, kindly man of lovable personality, he plainly bore affection for his home town and his home people. Their confidence and affection were returned to him in unmeasured volume.

Proposed annexation of the San Juan Capistrano area to the Orange County Municipal Water district, so that Colorado river water may be supplied to the fertile lands in the south end of the county, has been tentatively discouraged. Heavy expense of running a feeder line there is the obstacle.

But the plan has not been given up, it is understood. San Juan Capistrano, Dana Point and Capistrano Beach might line up with El Toro, which is already in the municipal water district and has its own expensive supply problem, and the Irvine ranch, might work out a joint line-building project, to connect with the new MWD feeder line that will run from Lake

I RISE TO REMARK

By JOHN PHILLIPS

As we end the old year, and make our traditional resolutions, it would be well for us to resolve to understand the limitations of the federal government and to lean less on it.

We could stop the trend to collapse if we would keep in mind only one simple thing: the federal government has no money to give anyone. It does not create; it does not produce, at least, not constructively. It does produce debt, and create confusion. The money it has, comes from the people who live in states. It is raised by taxes. The taxes are heavy, larger than needed, and are now laid on the taxpayers to the point of tax saturation. This means that more taxes will not necessarily produce more federal income. The people will stop spending; decide not to expand existing businesses, nor to start new businesses, and so the new tax income will not exceed the lost income. It will be an economic draw!

This money raised by the federal government is fed back to the people in the states. I read an editorial the other day in which the writer asked the following question: Sup-

Mathews to the vicinity of Santiago dam.

Del Liggett, the former Santa Ana lumber merchant, now growing oranges, has a problem which may be common to some others.

Liking his sleep, he bought a device with which he could go to bed on frosty nights and sleep comfortably, knowing that if the thermometer got down to 32 degrees, an alarm clock would ring at his bedside, telling him it was time to get up and light those heaters.

Then a neighbor installed a wind machine, just across the road from Del's house. The neighbor has a theory that if you don't let oranges get too cold they will grow larger. So he doesn't wait for 32 degrees. He starts the wind machine going at 34 degrees or higher. Therefore, the temperature around Del's house and alarm clock thermostat never gets down to 32 degrees, although the rest of his orchard, unknown to him, might show below 30 degrees.

Del is trying to work out a plan for more remote controls of his alarm clock. It's either that or take his alarm clock and a battery under his arm and sleep out under an orange tree, down in the orchard.

pose, he asked, that your doctor should say to you, after having drained off about three quarts of your blood, "Why, my poor man, you look anemic. I am sorry for you. Out of my well-known generosity, I am going to give you back a half-pint of your own blood."

You would hardly look on that as good sense. The editorial writer came from Arkansas, so he used that state as an example, and pointed out that the taxpayers of Arkansas paid the federal government $98,000,000 income taxes, and it was proposed to give the state back about $6,000,000 a year school aid, because of the "poverty" of the state. I shall have to look up the California figures on the relation of federal receipts to federal aid in all categories. My recollection is that we get back about $1 for every $7 we pay in taxes. I will correct that, if it is not right.

Federal aid is always weighted with federal bureaucracy, and with waste and duplication. It is impossible to avoid it. The people are too far away to supervise carefully, as they do with tax expenditures nearer home. Above all, we must keep in mind that every state in the Union has a surplus in its treasury; only the federal government is heavily in debt.

A good New Year's resolution would be to use our efforts and influence to see that the State of California stops asking the federal government for money to do things the state can do better and do more cheaply itself. Then local agencies can cut down on requests for state lines can deliver the water here from Lake Mathews, but 1951 answered the big question.

Meanwhile, the fading local water supply was materially helped during 1951 by purchase of 50,000 acres feet of Colorado river water from MWD at a cost of $500,000. Half was purchased by the Orange County Water district, half by the county flood control district.

The water district also took steps to protect county water rights on the Santa Ana river by filing suit against Riverside, San Bernardino, Redlands and Colton to halt increase in their pumping of water from the river basin. If the suit were successful, it would cut these cities back five years in the amount they could use. But the action will not be pressed if the cities proceed with plans to join MWD and import outside water.

Sanitation Peace

Agreement by county sanitation district directors upon administrative organization, engineering questions, and agreements governing purchase of the existing JOS system and operation of the new enlarged system, was finally reached late in the year, after vexatious squabbling which dated back beyond 1949, blocking sale of the $3,308,000 sanitation bond issues that were voted Feb. 28, 1949. These bonds will be sold Jan. 23, 1952 and building of the new sewerage system will get underway by early next summer.

In other fields, Orange county agriculture made progress in pest control and noteworthy advances in banishing the old, controversial "smudge" nuisance, partly through controls and improved orchard heaters, and partly by increasing use of wind machines.

Agriculture also continued its gradual yield to industry and new population, in marginal areas, and experienced some change from citrus to other production. It saw some relaxing of the new disease, quick decline, but remained puzzled by small fruit sizes in the orange groves.

Road Building

Road building went forward apace. Two major projects, the Wright-Brookhurst improvement and the new bridge over Coyote creek on Orangethorpe boulevard were leading items in the county program, with considerable street construction at Doheny Palisades and new subdivisions, besides usual maintenance. For 1952, the Bristol-Palisades extension, Pomona-Superior route, both in Costa Mesa area, and Katella road improvement in northwestern Orange county, hold priority.

The state road program in Orange county centered on Highway 39 in the Stanton area, completion of Santa Ana canyon freeway to the Riverside county line, expected by next March, extension of Santa Ana freeway and improvement of Garden Grove boulevard.

The state will carry all these projects forward during 1952, also will widen Newport boulevard through Costa Mesa, make a start on rebuilding Laguna canyon highway, and probably get started on the new Sepulveda extension through Orange county before the year is out.

For the 28 miles of new state highway this will involve, Orange county will take over 28 miles of present state highways in the county.

Flood Control

Water conservation and development got mixed with the chores of the Orange county flood control forces during 1951. A new special tax permitted the flood control district to purchase 25,000 acre feet of Colorado river water, and the district also built more infiltration pipes into Prado basin for its water salvage program there.

But, in the words of Flood Engineer Jack Bradley, the district "got back into the flood control business" during the year. Besides continuing its water gauding along Santa Ana river and salt water intrusion studies along the coast, Bradley's department built the first unit of the East Tustin storm drain, completed the Carbon pilot channel, rebuilt another section of the old WPA Placentia storm drain that fell apart, constructed the first of three units of the West Orange storm water channel, and a bridge trail along the lower Santa Ana river bed.

In addition, plans and specifications were completed and approved for the long-awaited Laguna canyon storm drain, and other works, including Unit 2 of the East Tustin storm drain. Steel allocations are the problem for 1952 and may hold up some jobs.

Other Activities

Fire protection was strengthened in the county this year. The state forestry division installed a truck at the El Toro station set up last winter and a local volunteer fire company was formed. Emerald Bay donated an $8000 truck and the state took over that station, making a total of 22 fire stations in unincorporated territory.

At Orange county harbor, most notable improvement was the move to build a new Coast Guard station and harbor master's headquarters, on property the county owns near the Balboa Yacht club, facing the harbor entrance.

Orange county fairgrounds likewise was the scene of numerous improvements of buildings and driveways, etc., to make for a big-

D. Edgington In Surprise Church Rites

Miss Dorothy Edgington became the bride of Larry F. Honn, FN, U. S. Navy, as they repeated their nuptial vows in a single ring ceremony solemnized at the close of the Sunday morning worship service in the Cypress Church of the Nazarene. The Rev. W. D. Howard, pastor, officiated.

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, just as the sun broke through the dark clouds to fill the church with its light, the bridal party entered. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a modish blue tailored suit with a small pink satin hat and navy accessories. She carried a white bible and gloves and wore an orchid corsage. Her bridesmaid, Miss Nancy Allen, was also dressed in a navy suit dress, with accompanying pink hat.

Howard Edgington, brother of the bride, served the groom as best man. At the close of the ceremony, as the couple knelt before the altar, Nolan Blackman sang "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Howard was pianist.

Friends of the bride's younger brother and sister, Kenny and Sylvia Edgington, awaited the happy pair as they made their exit, throwing the traditional rice.

The new Mrs. Honn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Edgington. Her husband is from Denver, Colorado, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Honn, reside. Navy orders call for his transfer today to the east coast, following his week's leave. Plans for Mrs. Honn's future are indefinite. She is a senior at Anaheim Union high school.

ger and better fair.

Remodeling and additions to the county hospital, removal of the county radio station from the county jail building in Santa Ana to the county farm, acquisition of more property in the new county civic center, west of the courthouse, were developments in county government.

A new Northeast Orange County Soil Conservation district was established. Boundary lines of the two assembly districts of the county were realigned to follow the Santa Ana river channel, causing boundary changes of supervisorial districts and some election precincts.

And county officials all got a raise in salaries.

M. Schelling, R. Van Dyke Repeat Vows

In simple rites performed in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schelling, 5411 Bishop street, Miss Marie Schelling was married to Richard Van Dyke, Artesia, Friday night. His uncle, the Rev. Albert Van Dyke of Santa Ana, officiated at the double ring ceremony, in the presence of members of the immediate families.

The bride was radiant in a white knit dress, with which she wore rhinestone ornaments and black velvet shoes, hat and purse. Her corsage was an orchid. The maid of honor, Miss Eleanor Boone of Artesia, wore a baby blue knit dress. Serving the groom as best man was his brother, Corty Van Dyke.

Mrs. Schelling, mother of the bride, chose a navy blue suit. The groom's mother, Mrs. Van Dyke, wore a black dress, and both had gardenia corsages.

A reception followed the seven o'clock ceremony, with 45 guests participating. Dinner was served at Knott's Berry Farm, where the bride and groom cut and served a beautiful wedding cake.

The event's taking place as it did in 1951, prompted the bride's aunt, Mrs. Herman Kline of Buena Park, to recall that her sister, the bride's mother, was married in 1931, she herself in 1941.

The wedding was planned especially at this time in order that Pleun "Duke" Schelling, the bride's brother, could be present. He was home on leave from the air force in Wichita Falls, Texas, where he returned to duty New Year's eve.

GREGG'S AWARD PRIZES

A drawing was held for customers of Gregg's super market recently in which a duck, a ham and ten pounds of sugar were given away.

Winners of the sugar and ham did not leave their names, but the duck was won by Mrs. Niel Spratt.

CORRECTION

The name of the home decorating contest winner in last week's paper should have been Kenneth B. Bordner, instead of Mrs. Bordner. Mrs. Bordner reports it was all her husband's idea and he should get the credit. The publicity chairman of the VFW auxiliary, which sponsored the event, is sorry for this error.

WORKING HOURS!

Yes folks, that's Reddy Kilowatt's schedule for 1952.

Eight thousand, seven hundred and eighty-four hours of work.

It's based on a simple calculation: 24 hours a day for 366 days, with no holidays or vacations. The number of hours doesn't really matter to you, though. What does matter is the fact that there will be electric power behind your switches when you need it—every hour of the day, every day in the year.

WE'RE FLAG WAVERS

A great American patriot once confessed, "Sure I'm a flag waver! Can you show me a better flag to wave?"
That's how the men who belong to the Veterans of Foreign Wars feel about their country—and we don't care a damn about the wisecracks of the smart alecks.
Being overseas veterans, we're not self-conscious when our patriotism shows. On the contrary, we believe it's high time to teach the youngsters of today there's nothing corny about waving the Stars and Stripes every chance you get.
That's why we are always promoting patriotic programs—the kind that will help our kids understand what a great country America is.
Sure, we're flag wavers, and we're proud of it. And that explains why those who understand the purpose of our flag waving never fail to say—
"THE V.F.W. IS A GOOD OUTFIT!"

SAID IN CYPRESS

Long Beach. In addition to their regular Sunday activities, which consist of assisting the boys in wheel chairs down the long corridors to the Sunday morning services in the chapel, several gave up their Christmas morning to this work. Mrs. Milam Williams and Mrs. H. J. G. Kreissler represented the local unit when they helped give a Christmas party in Ward E-9 on the Saturday night before the holiday. Each patient was given a plastic billfold as a gift, and refreshments of angle food cake and coffee were served at the close of a short program. Laguna Beach and Costa Mesa auxiliaries were co-hostesses at this particular event.

Another phase of our community yuletide activities which was sorely overlooked this year was the part played by our churches. The vesper service in the Cypress Church of the Nazarene particularly came to our attention. The candlelight program was especially effective, ending as it did with a playlet which told the story of the origin of the beloved Christmas carol, "Holy night, silent night." A great deal of preparation and study were exhibited by the leading characters, Stanley Martin, Bobby Knight, Earl Johnson and Miss Judy Stearns. No doubt the other churches had similar programs which endeared the Yule season to the hearts of the congregation.

We could feel a little more apologetic to members of our volunteer fire department for omitting mention at the last moment of their New Year's eve dance, if we felt that the feeling was a little more mutual to want to serve each other's best interest. Mention of the benefit dance might still have been "pulled from the fire" as it were (pardon the expression!) if any one of the force had called attention to their merely existing with a mention of the new resuscitator's having been purchased, as we understand it was, prior to the paper's going to press. Surely our readers locally are the first to rejoice in this wonderful display of community interest and cooperation. We understand, from what we read, that we are indebted particularly to the dairymen in our area, and we hasten to extend to them our heartfelt thanks.

And now we come to the most difficult part of all, as Dale writes "Thirty" to his capacity as editor, advertising manager, circulation director, and janitor (!) of the ENTERPRISE. Under his guidance the newspaper has prospered and developed. Selfishly, we lament his retirement to a newer, bigger job in a wider field, where he will be successful because it is in his nature to organize his work and use his knowledge to the best advantage. Selflessly, we rejoice that this opportunity came his way. To date, we see no other way out of this dilemma but to hire three people to take his place!

Buena Park Kiwanis Meets With Cypress

Forty Kiwanians met at Loyd's drive-in Wednesday night as the Buena Park and Cypress clubs had an inter-club meeting.

Both clubs had missed two weeks because their meeting nights fell on the holidays.

Speaker for the evening was Carl Gilbert, superintendent of the Buena Park schools. He discussed the subject of how service clubs could better their government.

Dick Hathcock, new president officiated. Franklin Sullivan, president of the visiting club and new division lieutenant governor, introduced the speaker.

WAIT OUT OLD YEAR AT GOODMAN'S

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Goodman invited friends to a "watch party" New Year's eve. A special telephone call was placed to the parents of Mrs. Castella Rogers in Las Cruces, New Mexico. She wished them a happy New Year, while they, in turn, reciprocated and added a happy birthday greeting in her behalf, as the last day of the old year waned.

After the whistles blew at midnight, indicating a new day and a new year, guests partook of a buffet supper which Mrs. Goodman had prepared, with the help of those who dropped in.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. H. J. G. Kreissler, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buzzo and her brother, Wayne, from Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lees, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Priddy, Ray Lucas, Mrs. Castella Rogers and Miss Beth Kroesen.

MRS. O. RIVERA AND DAUGHTER VISIT IN NEVADA

Mrs. Otilio Rivera has returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McWilliams, after spending New Year's with her husband in Reno. She was accompanied by her daughter, Charlene Arnold.

Because of illness this year, Mrs. McWilliams was forced to forego the pleasure of entertaining the family at its annual Christmas day dinner in their home. They held their traditional open house on Christmas eve, however to which friends have been coming for many years.

KREISSLER OPEN HOUSE ON NEW YEAR'S DAY

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. G. "Happy" Kreissler, extended the hospitality of their home on New Year's day, at 8212 Gay street, when they entertained at an open house.

Many friends called at the affair, and were served from a well-laden table which included hot and cold buffet dishes.

Those who knew them, especially members of the VFW post and auxiliary, contributed a message written on a long scroll-like paper, which Mrs. Kreissler mailed to members Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knauss in Lake Worth, Florida, where he is stationed in the air force.

J. Osborn Shoots Best, Wins Bird

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Osborn, 5612 Vonnie Lane, were guests the weekend before Christmas of Harvey Weeks and his son, Lon, of Corona, at the Lakeview Lodge at Lake Arrowhead. Other guests were Week's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swanson of Lynwood.

Sponsoring a target shoot during the weekend, the Lake Arrowhead fire department offered four turkeys to the winners in four groups of 40 contestants each. Jack Osborn won the first turkey with his one and only try with a 28 score out of a possible perfect 30. Harry Babbitt, singer, who was there as guest star for the Kiwanis club, won the second turkey, also a 28 score.

The last turkey was won by Lon Weeks after he and Harry Swanson tied with a 27 score which they had to shoot off, finishing with a score only a point apart.

A memorable and exciting weekend closed with the group loaded with turkey and coming away with the well-earned title of "sharpshooters."

C. L. WICKER'S VISIT IN TEXAS

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wicker and their children, Judy and Jimmy, 6062 Lincoln ave., returned Monday from a trip to El Paso, Texas, where they visited relatives.

On their return they were guests of friends at Casa Grande, Arizona. They spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. Southward, Mrs. Wicker's parents, at Riverside.

Of special interest during their stay in El Paso was a day's trip into Old Mexico. During their absence, the Wicker's ranch was capably managed by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis.

BORDNER'S HAVE HOUSE GUESTS

Mrs. Chester Bordner and Mrs. Walter Dobnick of Rockford, Illinois, are visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bordner, 5562 Bishop st. They are his mother and sister. A highlight of their month's stay was attendance at the Rose parade for the first time.

Another guest is Paul Bordner, 9430 Harvard, in Bellflower.

JENSEN'S SERVE BACON AND EGGS

Mr. and Mrs. "Bob" Jensen invited ten couples to a post-dance "breakfast" following the affair at the fire station New Year's eve. Undaunted by lack of seating arrangements for such a large crowd, Sue spread a tablecloth on the floor the length of the room and guests enjoyed their bacon and eggs at an early hour.

Special guests were former Cypress residents Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKee from San Diego who stayed with the Ed Robinson's.
